

1 8-403. Revocation or modification of release orders.

2 A. Scope. In accordance with this rule, the court may consider revocation of the 3 defendant's pretrial release or modification of the defendant's conditions of release

4 (1) if the defendant is alleged to have violated a condition of release; or

5 (2) to prevent interference with witnesses or the proper administration of 6 justice.

7 B. Motion for revocation or modification of conditions of release.

8 (1) The court may consider revocation of the defendant's pretrial release or 9 modification of the defendant's conditions of release on motion of the prosecutor or on the court's 10 own motion.

11 (2) The defendant may file a response to the motion, but the filing of a response 12 shall not delay any hearing under Paragraph D or E of this rule.

13 C. Issuance of summons or bench warrant. If the court does not deny the motion on 14 the pleadings, the court shall issue a summons and notice of hearing, unless the court finds that the 15 interests of justice may be better served by the issuance of a bench warrant. The summons or bench 16 warrant shall include notice of the reasons for the review of the pretrial release decision.

17 D. Initial hearing.

18 (1) The court shall hold an initial hearing as soon as practicable, but if the 19 defendant is in custody, the hearing shall be held no later than three (3) days after the defendant is 20 detained if the defendant is being held in the local detention center, or no later than five (5) days 21 after the defendant is detained if the defendant is not being held in the local detention center.

22 (2) At the initial hearing, the court may continue the existing conditions of 23 release, set different conditions of release, or propose revocation of release.

1 (3) If the court proposes revocation of release, the court shall schedule an 2 evidentiary hearing under Paragraph E of this rule, unless waived by the defendant.

3 E. Evidentiary hearing.

4 (1) Time. The evidentiary hearing shall be held as soon as practicable. If the 5 defendant is in custody, the evidentiary hearing shall be held no later than seven (7) days after the 6 initial hearing.

7 (2) Defendant's rights. The defendant has the right to be present and to be 8 represented by counsel and, if financially unable to obtain counsel, to have counsel appointed. The 9 defendant shall be afforded an opportunity to testify, to present witnesses, to compel the attendance 10 of witnesses, to cross-examine witnesses who appear at the hearing, and to present information by 11 proffer or otherwise. If the defendant testifies at the hearing, the defendant's testimony shall not 12 be used against the defendant at trial except for impeachment purposes or in a subsequent 13 prosecution for perjury.

14 F. Order at completion of evidentiary hearing. At the completion of an evidentiary 15 hearing, the court shall determine whether the defendant has violated a condition of release or 16 whether revocation of the defendant's release is necessary to prevent interference with witnesses 17 or the proper administration of justice[~~-.The court~~], and may:

18 (1) continue the existing conditions of release;

19 (2) set new or additional conditions of release in accordance with Rule 8-20 401 NMRA; or

21 (3) revoke the defendant's release, if the court

22 (a) finds either

1 (i) probable cause to believe that the defendant committed a 2 federal, state, or local crime while on release; or

3 (ii) clear and convincing evidence that the defendant has 4 willfully violated any other condition of release; and

5 (b) finds clear and convincing evidence that either

6 (i) no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably 7 ensure the defendant's compliance with the release conditions ordered by the court; or 8 (ii) revocation of the defendant's release is necessary to prevent 9 interference with witnesses or the proper administration of justice.

10 An order revoking release shall include written findings of the individualized facts
11 justifying revocation and shall be filed within three (3) days of the evidentiary hearing. If the court 12 continues or amends the defendant's conditions of release, then a written order continuing or 13 amending the defendant's conditions of release shall be provided to the defendant at the time of 14 release from custody if the defendant is in custody, or within three (3) days of the hearing if the 15 defendant is not in custody.

16 G. Evidence. The New Mexico Rules of Evidence shall not apply to the presentation 17 and consideration of information at any hearing under this rule.

18 H. Review of conditions. If the municipal court enters an order setting new or 19 additional conditions of release and the defendant is detained or continues to be detained because 20 of a failure to meet a condition imposed, or is subject to a requirement to return to custody after 21 specified hours, the defendant may petition the district court for review in accordance with Rule 8-22 401(I) NMRA. The defendant may petition the district court immediately on the issuance of the 23 municipal court order and shall not be required to first seek review or reconsideration by the

1 municipal court. If, on disposition of the petition by the district court, the defendant is detained or 2 continues to be detained because of a failure to meet a condition imposed, or is subject to a 3 requirement to return to custody after specified hours, the defendant may appeal in accordance 4 with Rule 5-405 NMRA and Rule 12-204 NMRA.

5 I. Expedited trial scheduling for defendant in custody. The municipal court shall 6 provide expedited priority scheduling in a case in which the defendant is detained pending trial.
7 The court shall hold a status review hearing in any case in which the defendant has been held for 8 more than forty-five (45) days. The purpose of the status review hearing is to conduct a meaningful 9 review of the progress of the case. If the court determines that insufficient progress has been made, 10 then the court shall issue an appropriate scheduling order.

11 J. Petition to district court for review of revocation order. If the municipal court 12 issues an order revoking the defendant's release, the defendant may petition the district court for 13 review under this paragraph and Rule 5-403(K) NMRA.

14 (1) Petition; requirements. The petition shall include the specific facts that 15 warrant review by the district court and may include a request for a hearing. The petitioner shall 16 promptly

17 (a) file a copy of the district court petition in the municipal court;

18 (b) serve a copy on the prosecutor; and 19 (c) provide a copy to the assigned district court judge.

20 (2) Municipal court's jurisdiction pending determination of the petition. On 21 the filing of the petition, the municipal court's jurisdiction to set or amend conditions of release
22 shall be suspended pending determination of the petition by the district court. The municipal court

1 shall retain jurisdiction over all other aspects of the case, and the case shall proceed in the 2 municipal court while the petition is pending.

3 (3) District court review. The district court shall rule on the petition in an 4 expedited manner.

5 (a) Within three (3) days after the petition is filed, the district court shall 6 take one of the following actions:

7 (i) issue an order affirming the revocation order; or

8 (ii) set a hearing to be held within ten (10) days after the filing 9 of the petition and promptly send a copy of the notice to the municipal court.

10 (b) If the district court holds a hearing on the petition, at the conclusion
11 of the hearing the court shall issue either an order affirming the revocation order or an order setting 12 conditions of release under Rule 5-401 NMRA.

13 (4) District court order; transmission to municipal court. The district court 14 shall promptly send the order to the municipal court, and jurisdiction over the conditions of release 15 shall revert to the municipal court.

16 (5) Appeal. If the district court affirms the revocation order, the defendant may 17 appeal in accordance with Rule 5-405 NMRA and Rule 12-204 NMRA.

3 Committee commentary. — The 2017 amendments to this rule clarify the procedure for 4 the court to follow when considering revocation of the defendant’s pretrial release or modification
5 of the defendant’s conditions of release for violating the conditions of release. In State v.
6 Segura, 2014-NMCA-037, ¶¶ 1, 24-25, 321 P.3d 140, overruled on other grounds by State v.
7 Ameer, 2018-NMSC-030, ¶ 69, 458 P.3d 390, the Court of Appeals held that due process requires 8 courts to afford the defendant notice and an opportunity to be heard before the court may revoke
9 the defendant’s bail and remand the defendant into custody. See also Tijerina v. Baker, 1968-
10 NMSC-009, ¶ 9, 78 N.M. 770, 438 P.2d 514 (explaining that the right to bail is not absolute); id.
11 ¶ 10 (“If the court has inherent power to revoke bail of a defendant during trial and pending final 12 disposition of the criminal case in order to prevent interference with witnesses or the proper 13 administration of justice, the right to do so before trial seems to be equally apparent under a proper
14 set of facts.”); State v. Rivera, 2003-NMCA-059, ¶ 20, 133 N.M. 571, 66 P.3d 344 (“Conditions
15 of release are separate, coercive powers of a court, apart from the bond itself. They are enforceable 16 by immediate arrest, revocation, or modification if violated. These conditions of release are 17 intended to protect the public and keep the defendant in line.”), rev’d on other grounds, 2004-
18 NMSC-001, 134 N.M. 768, 82 P.3d 939.

19 As used in Paragraph D, a “local detention center” is “one that is commonly used by the 20 municipal court in the normal course of business and not necessarily within the territorial 21 jurisdiction of the court.” Rule 8-401(A)(3) NMRA.

22 Paragraph G provides that the New Mexico Rules of Evidence do not apply at a revocation 23 hearing, consistent with Rule 11-1101(D)(3)(e) NMRA. As with courts in other types of

1 proceedings in which the Rules of Evidence do not apply, a court presiding over a pretrial detention
2 hearing is responsible “for assessing the reliability and accuracy” of the information presented. See
3 United States v. Martir, 782 F.2d 1141, 1145 (2d Cir. 1986) (explaining that in a pretrial detention 4 hearing the judge “retains the responsibility for assessing the reliability and accuracy of the 5 government’s information, whether presented by proffer or by direct proof”); State v. Ingram, 155
6 A.3d 597 (N.J. Super. Ct. App. Div. 2017) (holding that it is within the discretion of the detention 7 hearing court to determine whether a pretrial detention order may be supported in an individual 8 case by documentary evidence, proffer, one or more live witnesses, or other forms of information
9 the court deems sufficient); see also United States v. Marshall, 519 F. Supp. 751, 754 (E.D. Wis.
10 1981) (“So long as the information which the sentencing judge considers has sufficient indicia of 11 reliability to support its probable accuracy, the information may properly be taken into account in 12 passing sentence.”), aff’d, 719 F.2d 887 (7th Cir. 1983); State v. Guthrie, 2011-NMSC-014, ¶¶ 36-13 39, 43, 150 N.M. 84, 257 P.3d 904 (explaining that in a probation revocation hearing, the court 14 should focus on the reliability of the evidence); State v. Vigil, 1982-NMCA-058, ¶ 24, 97 N.M.
15 749, 643 P.2d 618 (holding in a probation revocation hearing that hearsay untested for accuracy 16 or reliability lacked probative value).

17 Paragraph I requires the municipal court to prioritize the scheduling of trial and other 18 proceedings for cases in which the defendant is held in custody. See generally United States v.
19 Salerno, 481 U.S. 739, 747 (1987) (concluding that the detention provisions in the Bail Reform
20 Act, 18 U.S.C. § 3142, did not violate due process, in part because of “the stringent time limitations 21 of the Speedy Trial Act,” 18 U.S.C. § 3161); Am. Bar Ass’n, ABA Standards for Criminal Justice:
22 Pretrial Release, Standard 10-5.11 (3d ed. 2007) (“Every jurisdiction should establish, by statute 23 or court rule, accelerated time limitations within which detained defendants should be tried

1 consistent with the sound administration of justice.”). This rule does not preclude earlier or more
2 regular status review hearings. The purpose of the hearing is to determine how best to expedite a 3 trial in the case. A meaningful review of the progress of the case includes assessment of the parties’ 4 compliance with applicable deadlines, satisfaction of discovery obligations, and witness
5 availability, among other matters. If the court determines that the parties have made insufficient 6 progress on these measures, then it shall issue an appropriate scheduling order.
