

1 13-2210. Verdict for both parties; for plaintiff on complaint; for defendant on counterclaim.

2 We find for the plaintiff in the sum of $ _____ on complaint.

3 We find for the defendant in the sum of $ _____ on counterclaim.

---

Foreperson

4 USE NOTES

5 This form of verdict should be used only when the counterclaim involves a possibility of a
6 verdict arising out of a different transaction than the claim of the plaintiff and where there can be
7 an award for both parties.

8 [As amended, effective November 1, 1991; March 1, 2005.]

9 Committee commentary. — See committee comments to verdict forms, UJI 13-2207 through 13-
10 2209 NMRA.

11 Three other forms of verdict are possible in the situation which justifies use of UJI 13-2210
12 [~~NMRA~~]. UJI 13-2209 [~~NMRA~~] would be used when it is possible to return a verdict for neither
13 party, and this usually occurs when it is also possible to return a verdict for both parties. UJI 13-
14 2201 NMRA would be used when a verdict could be rendered for the plaintiff alone and against
15 the defendant. UJI 13-2208 NMRA would be used when there could be a verdict rendered in favor
16 of the defendant on [~~his~~] the defendant's counterclaim and against the plaintiff on the counterclaim
17 and complaint.

18 [As amended by Supreme Court Order No. S-1-RCR-2025-00126.]

19